

Let's Rumba and Samba

Check out the new Australian-made Astone digital music players that can be used to play music and store files.

The Rumba 1000 is available in two memory sizes, 512MB and 1GB, and comes with a voice recording function.

If you want FM radio functions in your player, get the Rumba 2000 that also has a seven-colour LCD display and six preset equalizer settings. The 256MB model retails for $129 and the 512MB costs $179.

The Samba 1000 has all the features of the Rumba music players, plus support for 11 languages and auto sleep and power off timers. Comes in 256MB, 512MB and 1GB.
